Press Release

1st Responder News is the Official Newspaper of the New Jersey Fire Expo and New Jersey Firemen's Convention in Wildwood, NJ

Wildwood, NJ May 26, 2010: The Five Mile Beach Volunteer Firemen's Association, the host of New Jersey State Firemen's Convention and one of the largest fire expositions on the East Coast, the New Jersey Fire Expo™ is proud to announce that 1st Responder News, a national leader in reporting fire related news by publishing eight state and regional newspapers will be the Official Newspaper of the New Jersey Fire Expo™ and the New Jersey Firemen's Convention. The first issue under the new agreement will be for the 2010 Convention and Expo held in September.

Five Mile Beach VFA President Dave Thompson remarked, "After the conclusion of our last newspaper contract our members wanted to look for a publisher that would be more responsive to the needs of firefighters and after following a selection process the newspaper committee recommended 1st Responder News. I view this relationship as a win-win for both organizations." 1st Responder News will feature the same information that was in the previous newspapers concerning the events of the convention and exposition, including a map of the vendors. The newspaper will also feature some local advertising to help convention goers take advantage of the many opportunities available in the Wildwood's. The New Jersey State Firemen's Convention Edition will be distributed free of charge to all attendees at the convention and the fire expo during the convention.

The Five Mile Beach Volunteer Firemen's Association would like to especially thank Joseph Belsito of Belsito Communications, owner of 1st Responder News, and Kathy Rosini of 1st Responder News for their cooperation in settling this agreement in a timely manner.
